8. ([REDACTED] - CEA) Called J. Sourwine with regard to his request that [REDACTED] be made available to the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee and informed him that the House Committee on Un-American Activities had put in the first bid for [REDACTED] Sourwine accepted this although he was displeased and subsequently called Mr. Maury.

9. ([REDACTED] - CEA) Miss Batty in the office of Representative Donald J. Riegle (R., Mich.) called to let me know that the Congressman had interviewed [REDACTED] and wanted the Agency to know that he has no way of knowing whether [REDACTED] information is of any consequence. I attempted to pass this information on to [REDACTED] but was unable to reach him.

10. ([REDACTED] - GLC) In conversation with George Murphy, on the staff of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, I mentioned the articles appearing in the [REDACTED] [REDACTED] Murphy said he had seen the full page ad in the New York Times on this and was keeping a lookout for it. I gave him an idea as to the tack taken by [REDACTED] in discussing the [REDACTED] Murphy said this recalled to mind his earlier inquiry to us on [REDACTED] article and our reluctance to comment on it. I repeated our position that the Agency did not wish to comment on the validity of [REDACTED] assertions in his article. I indicated, however, that if he had a specific question of fact which he wished to put to us, that was a different matter. I told Murphy we would probably bring someone up in the next few days to discuss some of the more important of these cases and the relationship, if any, to the atomic energy field.

11. ([REDACTED]) In response to his earlier inquiry for the names of the [REDACTED] I advised Jay Sourwine, on the staff of the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security, that we had come across the names of [REDACTED] [REDACTED] and he might want to pursue this further by checking with the Visa Office. Sourwine thanked me for this information and said he would contact the Visa people.
